Soccer

The Muhlenberg College soccer team continued the pace it had set in 1972, but was thwarted in its effort to defend the MAC title it had won the previous year by a quirk in the MAC league setup. Although Muhlenberg played nine league games, winning eight and tying one, Washington slipped in the back door on the basis of six wins against teams of questionable ability.

The season opened with a conquest of University Division foe Gettysburg, followed by a win against MAC foe Widener. A disappointing 1-0 defeat was handed the Mules by Lehigh. This was followed by consecutive wins over F&M, Wilkes, Moravian, Ursinus, Haverford, Lafayette, Kutztown State, and Stevens in addition to a 1-1 tie with Swarthmore.

To climax a second consecutive brilliant year, the Mules were invited to play in the NCAA College Division tournament as the third seed in the region. However, it was a cold and blustery day which saw the Mules fall victim to injury and stagnation from the two week layoff since the end of the regular season, as the Mules bowed to Elizabethtown 4-1.

The Mules once more were paced in scoring by Rob Richard of Prospect Park, New Jersey, who was supported by the MAC Southern Division MVP, Greg Muntz.

In the coming year, the team will be looking to replace the high scoring Richard, as well as two other fine counterparts, who, together with Richard, made up the tricaptains: goalie Dave Slider, and halfback, Tim Hilbert.

The final tally showed the Mules posting an 11-2-1 record, including Coach Ron Lauchnor's 50th win as a collegiate soccer coach.

Football

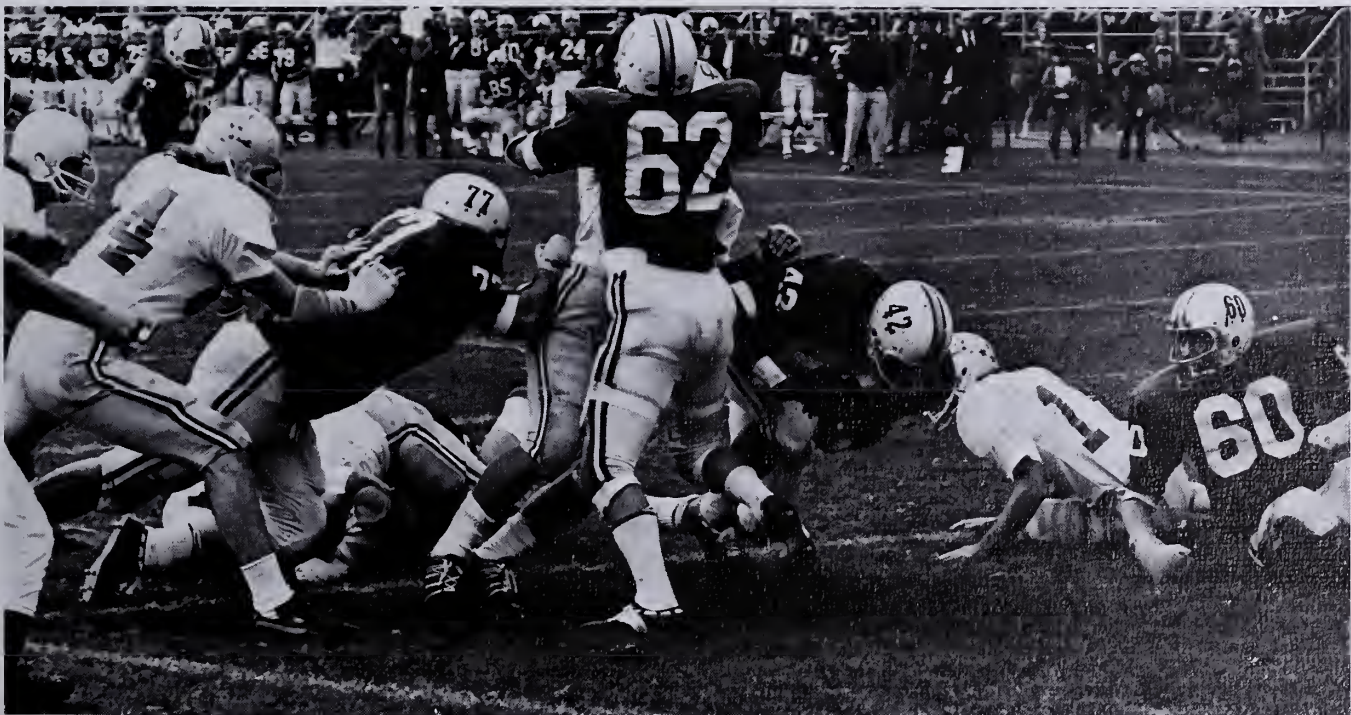

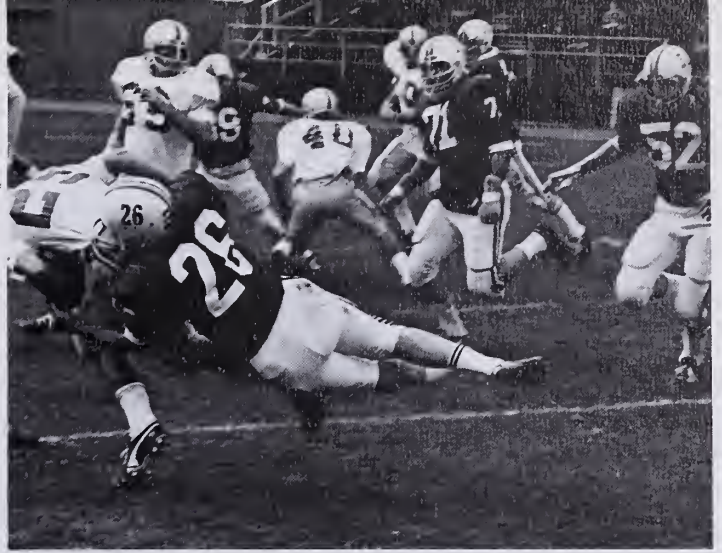

Last season Muhlenberg compiled a one and eight log which earned it the label of being a rebuilding season. However, the rebuilding did not end with the last game of '72, but was just beginning. The task that lay ahead for both the coaches and the players was to evaluate the season and, in so doing, to detect the weaknesses and correct them, and to find the strengths of the team and perfect them. Having learned what losing was, Muhlenberg's football team set its sights on learning how to win.

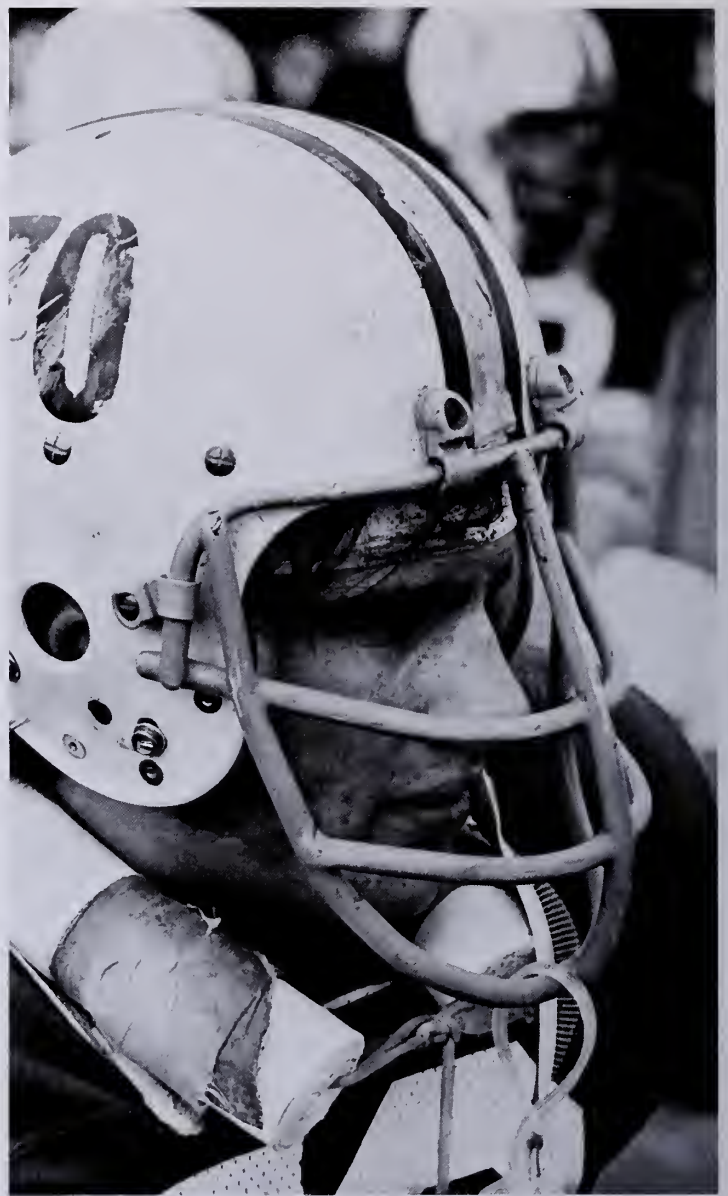

Muhlenberg began its '73 season by testing its newly adopted veer-offense and veteran defense in pre-season games against two strong and experienced northern division teams. Albright and Wilkes Colleges, and the Muhlenberg team came off both encounters on top. In these two contests Muhlenberg gained a great deal of experience but more importantly the team gained the confidence it lacked at the end of the previous season. Having these two necessary attributes, Muhlenberg was able to begin its season with a full head of steam.

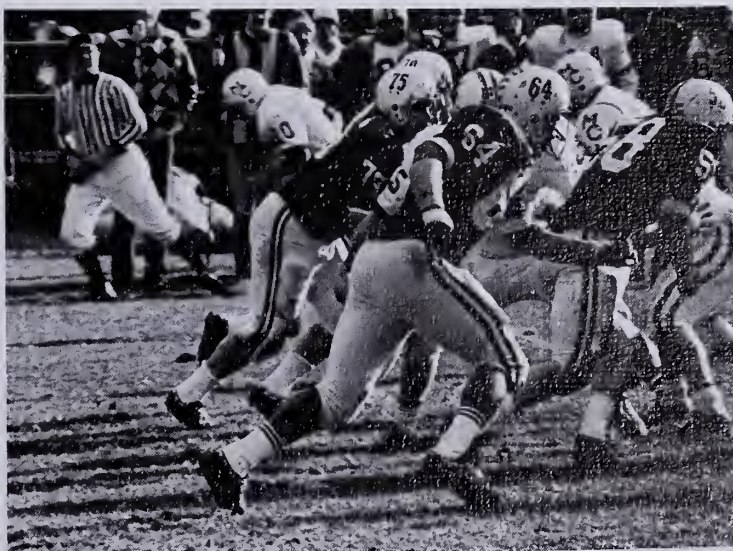

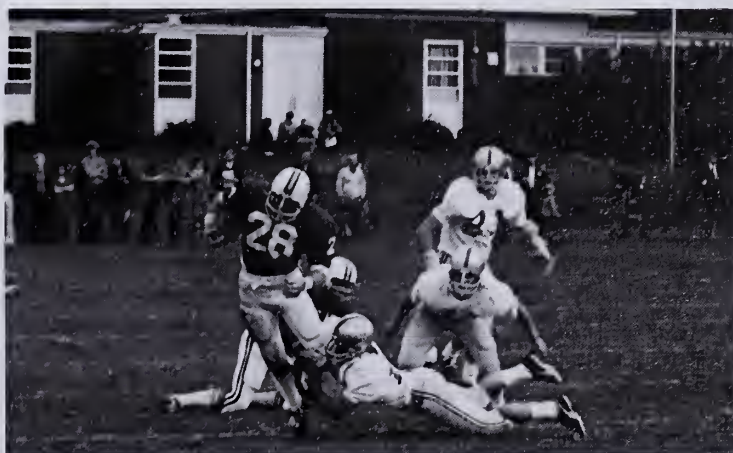

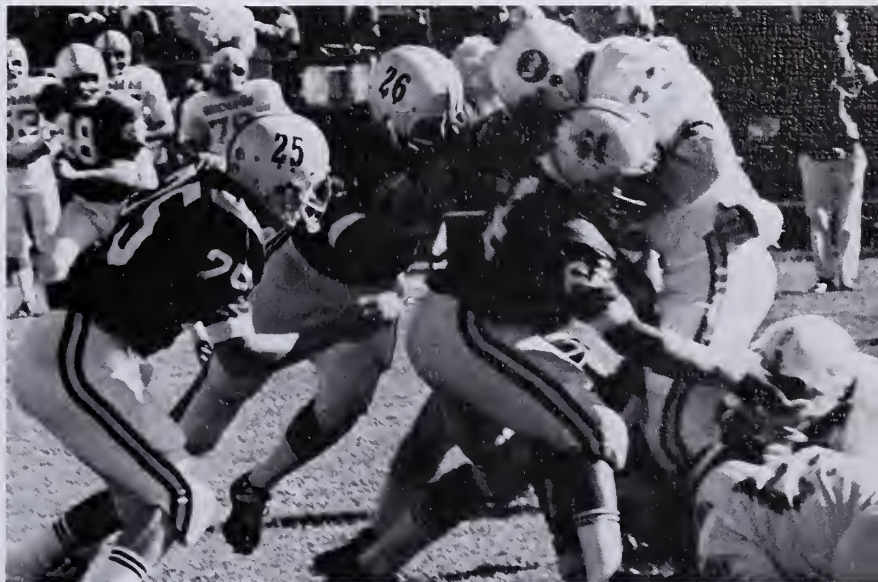

As the season progressed the team's momentum increased, and, except for the slight set back in tying Lebanon Valley, Muhlenberg was beginning to realize just how sweet victory could be. However, it was not until the Widener game that the team reached its full potential. Although both teams were undefeated Widener had just beaten the also undefeated F&M team the week before and was heavily favored in the game with Berg. It was the emotional factor, though, that had a great deal of influence in the outcome of this game. In '72 Widener and its "white shoed" Billy Johnson had handed Berg its worst defeat, scoring five touchdowns. In '73, though, Muhlenberg was able to smash the Widener record by a margin of one point and Billy Johnson was easily contained by a determined defense. It was the offense, by being able to put together several sustained drives which resulted in needed points on the board, that was the key factor, for this gave the defense the rest that it needed to be able to contain the potent Widener offense. This was, indeed, the high point of the season for the entire team.

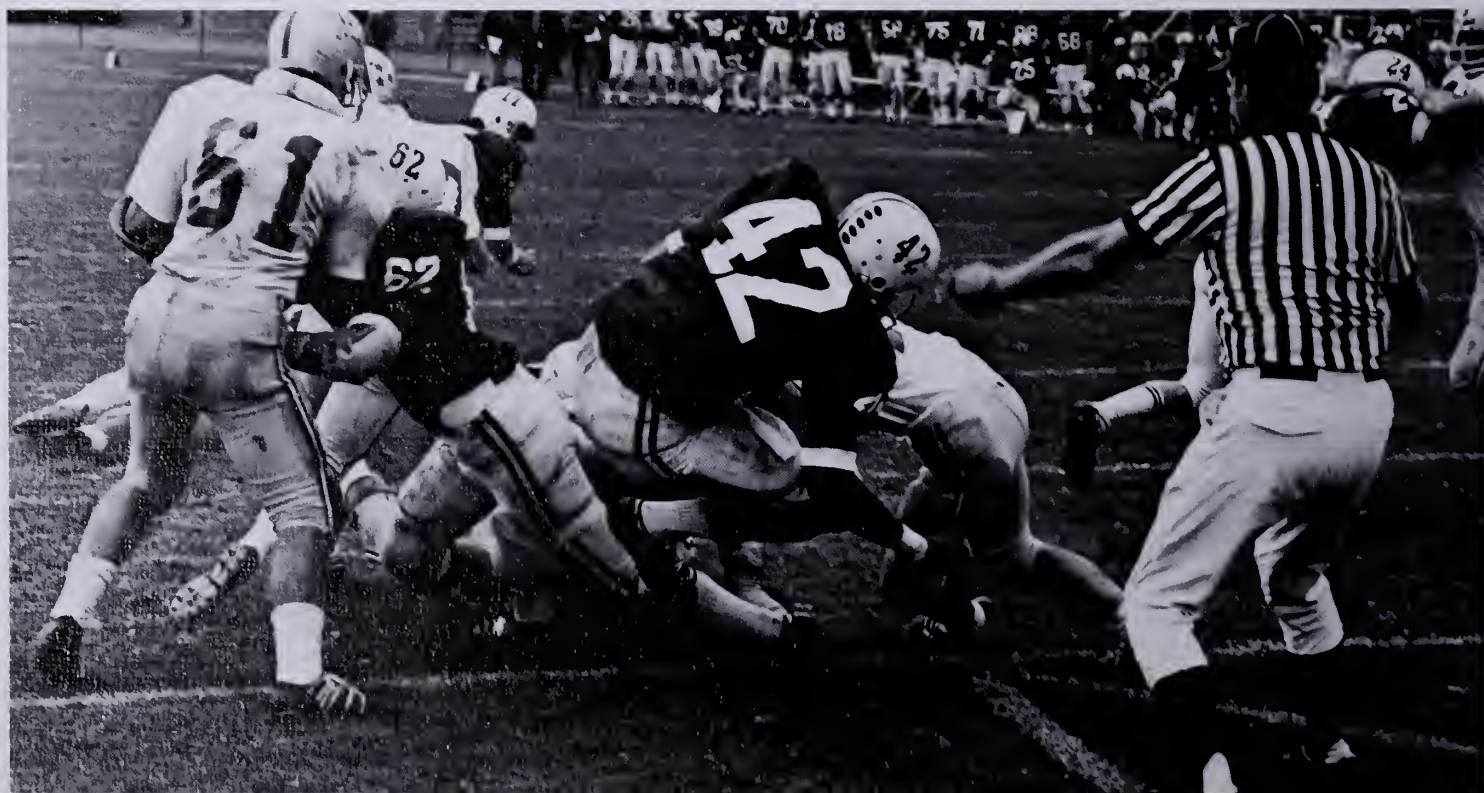

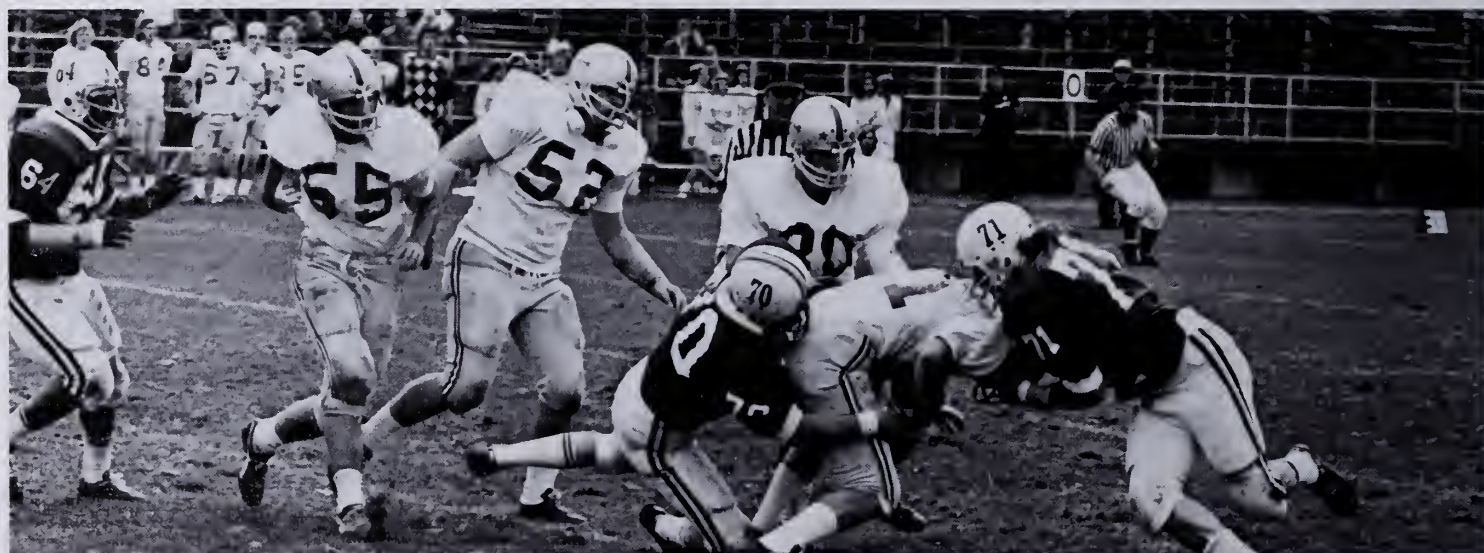

Dreams of an undefeated season, though, were shattered by a revenge-seeking F&M squad. With their victory over Muhlenberg, F&M was able to wrap up the League title. Despite this loss, Berg was still able to rally and come back for the last game of the season against Moravian in which Muhlenberg beat them for the first time in eight years.

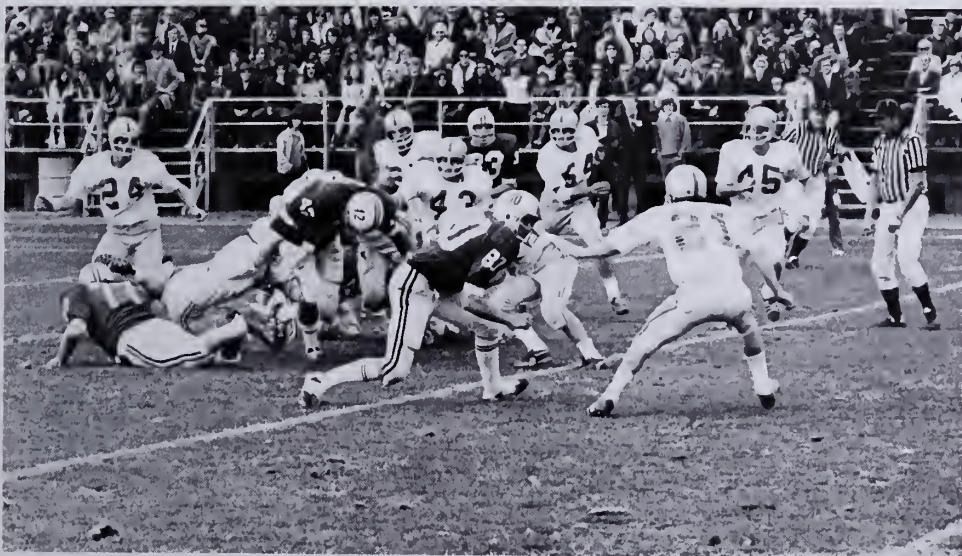

If the success of the team had to be attributed to one factor it would have to fall on the attitude of the team and its coaches. The season was one complete team effort; each person working individually for the improvement of the whole. Although there were only eight seniors, it was their spirit that set the pace for the entire team for they gave the experience and leadership needed. With a great majority of the team returning, Muhlenberg should enjoy another fine season next year.

Cross Country

A solid veteran Mule cross country team lashed back at its tough opposition this year and sported its best season in the history of the college. The harrier squad, composed of two seniors, two juniors, four sophomores, and two freshmen showed itself to be a true contending power in this year's MAC Conference, as it posted a record of 8 wins and 5 losses.

The Mules were co-captained this year by four year veteran and school record holder Rich Barrett, and the ever strong veteran senior Russ Herwig. Together, these two teammates established a winning spirit and confidence within the team's ranks, for as Barrett usually blazed over the finish line more often than not in first place, Herwig was always a threat to the other competitor's top runners, and could be relied upon to show a positive spirit no matter how stacked the deck seemed against the Mules.

The thinclad's solidarity and depth, however, was supplied by another fine group of experienced underclassmen. In the Junior camp, Bill Studman and Howie Gondleman were always on the fly to produce these needed winning points. The fine sophomore division, on the other hand, bore the brunt of the depth, and thus could be said to have been responsible for all the wins. Mark DeWalt, undoubtedly the most improved member of this year's harrier group, was very often found near the lead and in contention for those high places. Steve Nix, who was slow at the season's start, came on strong to be counted among the top twenty runners in the MAC. Barry Wiser and Al Pels were always crucial in the meet's outcomes and the freshmen Dave Miller and Art Douglas show much promise as fine runners.

As for the season itself, the harriers ran circles around Dickinson, Elizabethtown, Scranton, Lebanon Valley, Albright, Drew, Haverford, and Nyack. The team's only losses were to the powerful teams of Delaware Valley, Franklin and Marshall, Widner, Swarthmore, and Ursinus. The team placed sixth out of twenty three teams in the MAC meet, the highest it has ever placed. The meet was highlighted by the sixth place, medal-winning performance of Rich Barrett, who reestablished himself as one of the top runners of the conference, last year having been plagued by injuries. Also, Steve Nix turned in a championship performance, placing fifteenth, and showing a medal gathering future. However, as the team looks to the future, it is evident that Coach Bill Flamish must fill two vacant positions in order to maintain his winning ways.

Women's Field Hockey

The undefeated 1973 women's hockey team is one to be remembered. Their 5-0-2 record is indicative of this hard pressing and energetic team. Both the offense and defense developed into aggressive, well-balanced units under the guidance of Coach Jean Hecht. The rugged defense kept the opponents' scoring to a minimum by allowing them to complete only two successful goal drives against the determined Berg team all season. The aggressive and skillful offense pressed for multiple goals to win convincingly in many games. The team's success lay in the fact that indeed it was a team working as one, composed of many individual "good players" who were able to effectively complement each other's skills.

The season opened with a tough game against Kutztown which resulted in a battle of the defenses. The only goal for each team occurred on sudden breaks, typical of the tense nature of this match. In the following game, the offense rose to display its agility and adeptness in controlling the ball in Berg's defeat of the Cedar Crest team. The Cedar Crest girls were no match for the forceful team, and the 6-0 score proves it!

As the season progressed Moravian and Lehigh also fell victim to the women's powerful team. Only in the presence of Lafayette did the Berg team waver a bit when full-back Liz Nickle was injured and forced to the sidelines for the remainder of the season. This game was plagued by a series of impotent plays leading to a frustrating 1-1 tie. However the 'Berg team bounced back to win its last four games by sizable margins.

At the conclusion of the season a Lehigh Valley Tournament was conducted at Cedar Crest for the schools in the league. The Muhlenberg team was well represented, with six of its members being selected to the All-Star teams. These were Debbie Luppold, Sally Wagner, Jane Shoemaker, Sue Landis, Jan Williams, and June Weber. With the high quality of five capable freshman lettermen on the 1973 team and the loss of only one senior, Sue Landis, the prospects for a winning season in '74 look bright.

Basketball

Despite an eleven and eleven win-loss record, the Muhlenberg basketball season would have to be termed successful. Many believed the departure of 1000 point scorers Jay Haines and Joe Paul would leave Ken Moyer's cagers without a strong offensive showing. The slack, however, was more than taken up by a balanced attack, led by sophomore tri-captain Glenn Salo.

Salo, the diminutive backcourt wizard, brought the crowds in Memorial Hall to their feet many times during the season with his steals, adept passing ability, stifling drives, and long range shooting. Senior tri-captain Ron Miller was another standout for the Mules. His all-out hustle and rugged rebounding gave Muhlenberg fans the thrills they were looking for.

The season started out slowly as the Mules lost their opener to underdog Western Maryland. An overtime squeaker loss to a strong Lafayette team, however, was an indication that it would be an exciting and promising season. It was also in that game that junior Jim Barile came into his own. He provided a strong inside scoring punch and needed rebounding throughout the year. The Mules went on to win the Central Bucks Holiday Tournament for the second consecutive year and also beat a tough Albright ball club which ended its season as the MAC Northern Division champions.

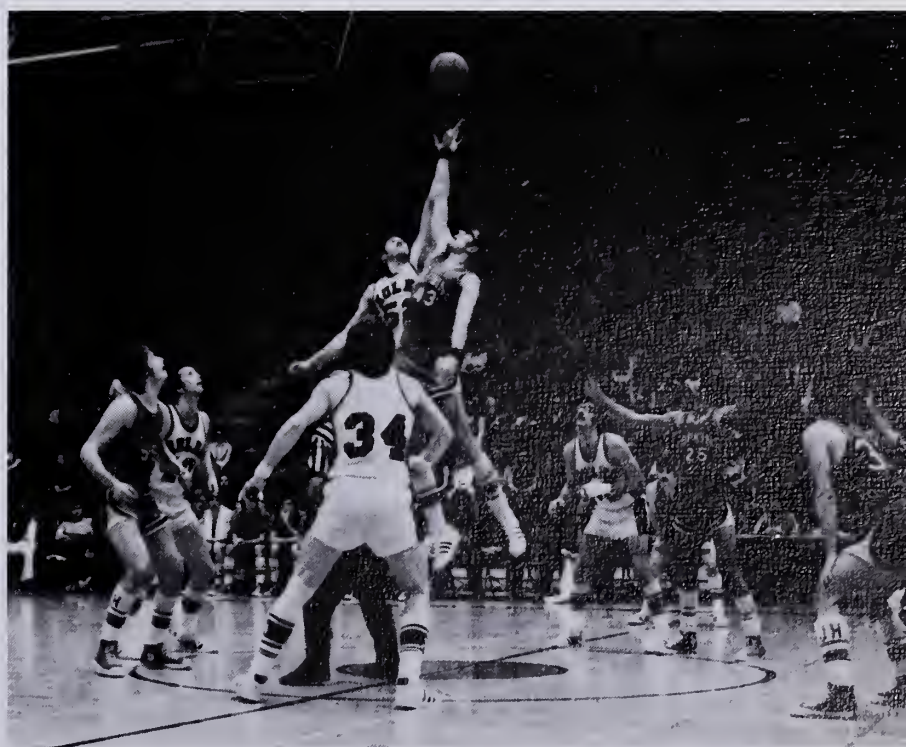

In end of the season playoffs held in Memorial Hall, the Mules with a third place finish in the conference took on favored Widener: a team which had blown them off the court at Widener only two weeks earlier. Not many held the hope that the Mules could overcome Widener's tall opposition, but in winning six of their last seven conference games that were necessary in order to make the playoffs, the Mules showed they could be tough against even the tallest. Once again, teamwork and the fast break, proved to be Muhlenberg's trademarks. Junior John Schmehl, with a broken hand received in the F&M game, surprisingly returned to action against Widener; he provided the Mules with needed outside shooting and came through with clutch performances as he had several times throughout the season.

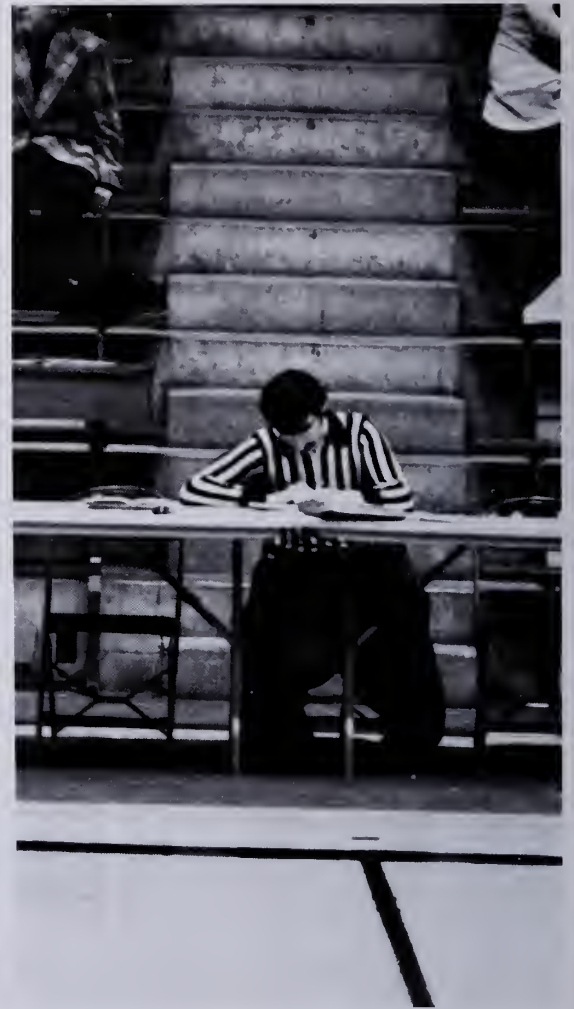

Junior tri-captain Al Sincavage contributed double figure games as did juniors Bill Filipovits and Jim Barile. These experienced veterans did the bulk of the work for the Mules, but a strong bench that included sophomores John Van Kirk, Arch Kinsley, Ray Schilling, and freshman Gary Kinyon were valuable subs.

Salo, who put away seven games with his clutch foul shooting and last minute dribbling exhibitions, was rewarded for his fine season by being named to the All-Conference First Team.

Fencing

The Muhlenberg Fencing Team bettered last year's record with three wins and five losses, while placing two fencers on the MAC All-Conference Team in the 1973-1974 season.

After a strongly fought 14-13 win over the Alumni that was televised nationally on Educational T.V., the Mules travelled down south during January for a two week tour that covered close to 1,000 miles. The team fenced against such national powers as Navy, N.C. State, UNC, and Duke, finishing with a 5 win 4 loss record. Standouts during the tour were: Captain David Binder with a 23-7 sabre record, including four 3-0 matches; Eric Sun, foil, 17-13; Vi Sawyna, epee, 20-10; and freshman Mark Maletsky, 22-8 with five 3-0 matches.

The regular season saw the Mules start off with a 14-13 win over Haverford and then wait until their sixth match of the season for their next win, defeating Lafayette, 15-13. Between their two wins the team had a tough middle season, losing to strong teams from William Paterson (8-19), Johns Hopkins (9-18), and Stevens (9-18). After a disappointing loss to Drew (14-13), the Mules won two of their last three matches, defeating Lafayette, (15-12), and Montclair, (14-13).

The season was highlighted by Captain Dave Binder's 19-5 record in sabre, and Vi Sawyna's 15-8 record in epee. These two fencers showed well at the MAC championships, with Sawyna being named to first team All-conference, and Binder being named to second team All-conference.

Team awards for the 1974 season, voted by their teammates, went to: Most Valuable Fencer — Captain Dave Binder, '75, sabre, and Most Improved Fencer — Jay Smith, '77 sabre.

Wrestling

Muhlenberg College wrestling made great strides in 1973-74. Coach John Biddiscombe's grapplers finished the season with a 7-4 mark, the most successful mat season since 1959.

After losing their opening bout to the always tough Swarthmore team, the Mules rebounded for three consecutive victories over Haverford (36-8), Ursinus (33-15), and Albright (30-21).

A 33-9 loss at the hands of the Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley was followed by a resounding win over Scranton University (43-3).

Two Mule losses to Delaware Valley and Moravian in a triangular meet seemed to put a damper on the Cardinal and Grey but like most strong athletic teams they didn't let it get them down. The Mules closed out the season with three wins over Widener, Rutgers, and Kings College.

The 1973-74 season witnessed an unusual new record being set at Muhlenberg. Freshman grappler Pete Maluso took only 15 seconds in his 142 pound bout to pin his Scranton opponent.

Junior 134-pounder Jim Gaydos, defending Middle Atlantic Conference champion finished second in his bid to defend his title and went on to represent Muhlenberg in the NCAA College Division championships.

Women's Basketball

Mrs. Helene Hospodar coached the 1973-74 women's varsity basketball team to a winning 6-3 season, the team's best record in recent years. The win-loss column does not indicate, however, the great deal of frustration caused by illness and injury to many team regulars. This year's squad was led by senior tri-captains Cindie "Sledge" Hufnail, Carol "Hutch" Hutchinson, and Patsy Sullivan. Joining them were juniors Becky "Bucket" Potts, Liz "Lizard" Nickle, and freshmen Laurie Costello, Ann Peters, and Jackie Poulson. A good group of sophomores and freshmen who generated plenty of spirit and enthusiasm rounded out the team.

After a long semester break, the season began with a loss to Miseracordia, always a tough opponent. The "Berg" handily collected four wins against Albright, Upsala, Wilkes, and Lafayette. Of all the games played, Wilkes was by far the roughest. The game resembled more of a football contest than a basketball game. Weakened by illness and "impartial" referees, the team lost its next game to Marywood. Although not much of a contest, the Drew game saw Patsy Sullivan, high scorer for the season, net her five hundredth point, the third woman to do so in Muhlenberg history. A spirited Kutztown team came from behind and gave Berg its third and final loss.

Certainly the highlight of the season was the final contest with Lafayette. Trailing for a while, this win can definitely be attributed to an all-out team effort. The rebounding of Hufnail and Potts, the ball-handling of Poulson and Hutchinson and the shooting of Costello and Sullivan combined to give the team this victory plus their winning record.

No team would be complete without their managers and the squad and Coach Hospodar would especially like to thank senior manager Ann Donley for her four years of service to the team.

Baseball

Coach Sam Beidleman's baseball team spent many pre-season hours working on fundamentals but it wasn't until the fifth scheduled game that they were able to apply them. The Mules' first four contests were either snowed out or rained out. To add insult to injury, even the off-days were wet and inhibited outdoor practice sessions.

These conditions played havoc with the Mule pitching staff, which generally needs consistent work to remain sharp. When the season finally did get under way, the Mules found a winning streak very elusive and they finished with a 6-10 record. They did, however, play .500 ball against Middle Atlantic Conference competition, posting a 6-6 mark.

Mule bats were paced all season by first baseman Bill Filipovits who hit an impressive .386 and also chipped in with 10 rbi's. "Flip" hit at a torrid .464 clip against MAC foes, and played errorless ball all season. Senior co-captain Ed Kalis swung at a .338 clip and a .364 MAC play. Co-captain Jack Pritchard hit .250 but led the Mules in rbi's with 11.

The Mule pitching staff had a fine 2.5 earned run average for the 1974 season. Sophomore Mike Reid, who also hurled footballs in the fall, led the team with a 1.88 ERA. Reid finished with a 3-3 record. Tom Oleksa boasted the sole winning record on the mound with a 2-1 mark. His

2.8 ERA was second best on the team. The sixth Muhlenberg victory was chalked up by Pritchard.

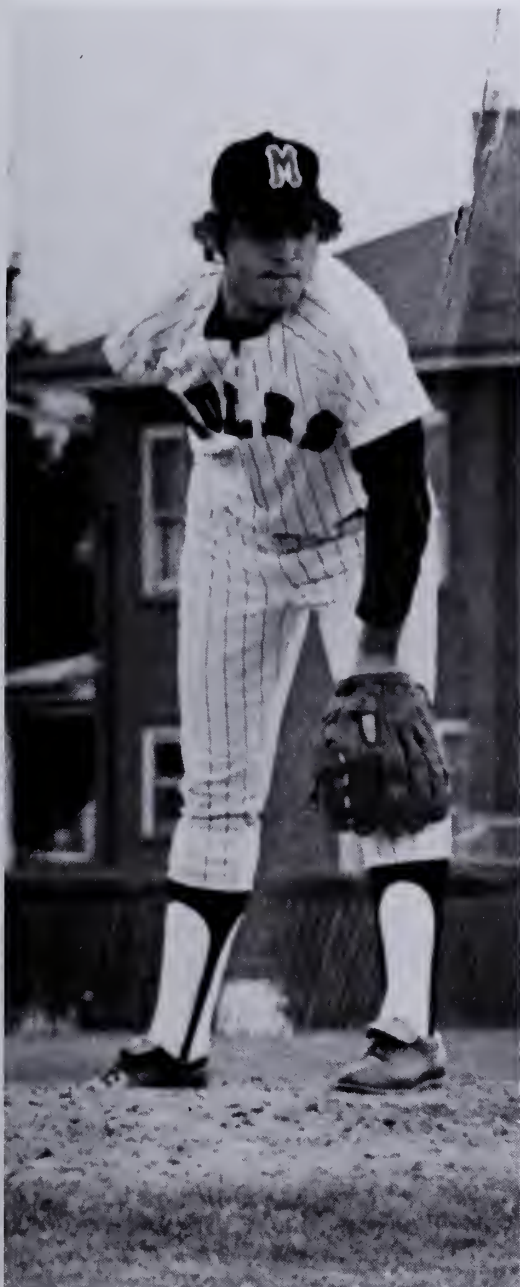

Highlighting the season were a pair of doubleheader victories over Franklin and Marshall and Johns Hopkins. The former was particularly sweet since just one year earlier it was F&M who knocked the Mules out of contention for the MAC crown. The final highlight to the season was when Filipovits, Kalis, Reid, and John Mill were given honorable mention by the MAC.

Lacrosse

The 1974 lacrosse season was a historic one, witnessing the Mules completing their first winning season in history. Their six victories against three losses also marked the most wins in any season.

Coach Frank Marino, who has directed the Mule stickmen since lacrosse became a varsity sport in 1966, has been waiting anxiously for a winning season. His charges were winless in their first three seasons and won their first contest in 1969 finishing that season with a 1-6 mark.

However, coach Marino's system began to take effect in 1970 when the Cardinal and Gray posted four wins and then repeated that number in 1971. After a brief slide in 1972, his team rebounded with four more wins in 1973.

But 1974 will always be held in the hearts of Muhlenberg lacrosse fans as they played consistent winning ball and boasted many individual stars. Junior Doug Cornwell led all Mule scorers with 31 goals in the nine games for a 3.5 goal per game average. Other key contributors to the Mule cause included sophomore Glenn Salo, and freshmen Ron Michaelis and Jack Shields. Senior goaltender Chris Pelkey set all net records including 142 saves giving him a 15.7 save per game average.

Track

The 1974 track season is one that many would like to forget. It was the first losing season for the 'Berg in five years, yet various cindermen were among the best in recent track history. The reason for defeat can easily be attributed to injuries and the lack of depth. In many meets the team was giving away as many as twenty-five points to the opposition because no Mule thinclads were entered in certain events.

It was a season of individual performances, highlighted at the Swarthmore-Drexel-Muhlenberg meet held at Franklin Field, where Rich Barrett's mile and two mile records fell. The new record holders are sophomores Steve Nix in the mile (4:26.4), and Mark Dewalt in the two mile (9:46.4). It was a sorry sight to see co-captain distance ace Rich Barrett injured on the sidelines. He was only able to compete in the last dual meet. He will be remembered, however, for making Muhlenberg distance running tough competition for the rest of the conference.

Defeating Widener's defending MAC champion in an early meet, Walt Staehle would have been among the top in the league had he not sustained the injury which forced him, too, to the sidelines. Adding strength in distance events, Russ Herwig was the only senior to remain uninjured throughout the entire season.

A strong area for the team were the weight events. Under the guidance of Coach Berry, Scott Orens led the team in points, participating in the discus and shot events. In the javelin, 'Berg showed depth with the trio of Blake Marles, Sam Stovall, and Mike Maliefsky. These three consistently swept the event during the season. Among the jumpers, Arch Knisely jumped to many wins in the high jump. Freshman Bruce Bird seems to have a promising future in the long and triple jumps. Another freshman, Gene Christian, found that he was a good pole vaulter when he tried the event for the first time this year.

In the sprints, Karl Bordeau and Craig Bernecker looked strong in the 100 and 220. But, like many other members of the team, Karl was injured and sidelined for the season. Dave Wall held down the quarter mile for the Mules. Senior Russ Brown was the utility man for the Mules, performing well in a wide variety of events.

At the MAC championships Scott Orens placed second in the discus, Arch Knisely placed second in the high jump, and senior Blake Marles took fourth in the javelin. With the majority of the team returning next year, and the hope that the plague of injuries has been removed, Coach Flamish can look forward to returning to the winning ways of the past.

Golf

Bolstered by the outstanding play of freshman Dave Kramp, and a strong balanced team effort, the 1974 Muhlenberg golf team compiled a 9-4 seasonal log — the best record ever posted by a Berg golf team.

Complementing Kramp with consistently strong performances were senior Craig Aronchick, juniors Joe Hacker and Ken Moyer, and sophomore Keith Ordemann. Senior Howie Pomerantz and sophomore Tom Hadzor, who often filled the remaining two positions, contributed significantly to the successful spring campaign.

A second place finish at the annual MAC tournament, three strokes behind MAC champion Moravian, highlighted the 1974 season. Individually, Kramp earned fourth place honors at the conference meeting held at Hidden Springs Country Club with superb rounds of 74 and 76. With five returning lettermen, Coach Tom Davis is confident and expects another fine representation in 1975.

Men's Tennis

Before the start of the 1974 tennis season coach Ken Webb knew victories would be hard to come by and that he must turn his energies toward rebuilding a squad badly hurt by graduation a year ago.

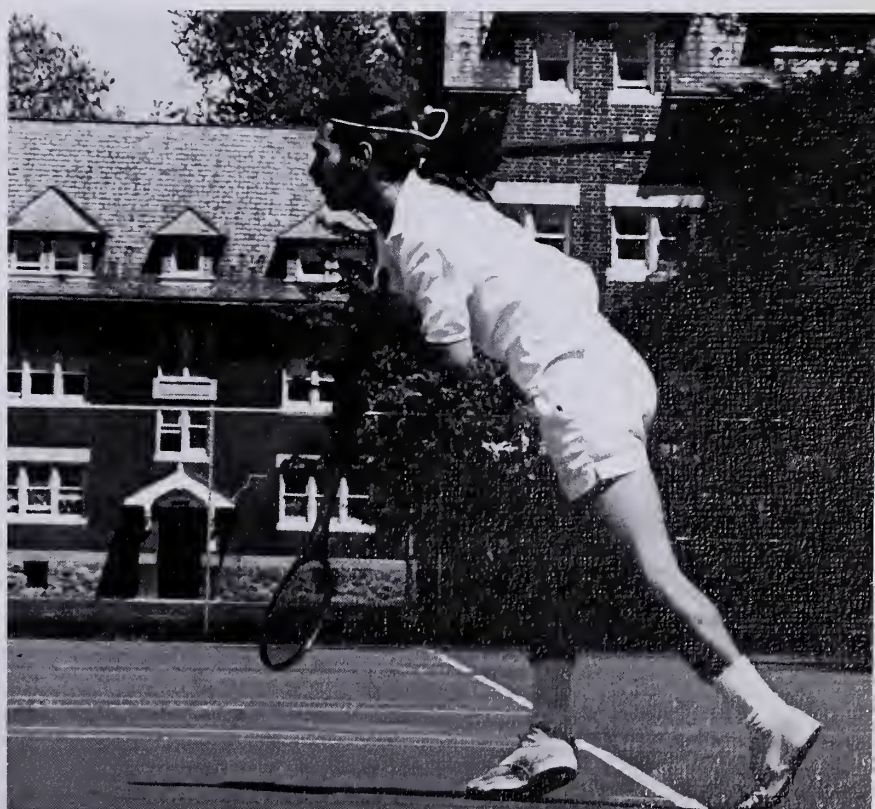

After much experimenting and shifting the Mule netmen won their first contest on the fourth try when they topped Widener by a score of 6-3. The Mules began showing signs of maturity as they lost the next two games to Albright and Lafayette and won two of their last three matches by beating Ursinus and Dickinson while losing a cliff-hanger (5-4) to Wilkes.

Despite the evident lack of experience the Mules showed much poise en route to a 3-6 (not too disappointing) season.

Women's Tennis

With coach Jean Hecht on sabbatical, the 1974 women's tennis team turned in a somewhat disappointing season, sporting only a 2-6 record. However, prospects for future seasons looked very hopeful. The team was led by two freshmen in Janet Cassard at first singles and Jill Robertson at second singles. Senior Patti Phillips rounded out the core at third singles. Superlative performances were continuously turned in by Janet Cassard who led the team with an amazing 7-1 record. Jill Robertson also contributed strong performances. With two freshmen at first and second singles, the women's tennis team should be looking forward to three strong years in the future.

A yearbook means different things to different people. To some it is used as a reference guide — to look up someone's address or to recall a face. To others it is an artistic attempt to express thoughts creatively through pictures and words. To all of us, however, it represents in symbolic form the events of one year at Muhlenberg College. Naturally some pictures will be more meaningful to you than others. Hopefully the book is varied enough to affect each of us in some small individual way. Unfortunately, working with such a small staff means our outlook on the school and the year gone by may vary from yours. We have attempted, at any rate, to bring out a few aspects of college life that may not have been represented in this book in past years. But of course, some parts of life at Muhlenberg which you may feel are important may have been overlooked. Even in a book of this length it is impossible to include everything.

A yearbook cannot be hastily put together. It requires a great deal of time and dedication. This book is the culmination of planning and work which spanned an entire year from July to July. To the people who devoted so many hours to the book, we give our sincere thanks. Without the help of Tony Mazzocca from Davor Photo and Bill O'Brien from American Yearbook, this book certainly would never have gotten off the ground. We must also express our thanks to Chuck Genna in the College Relations Office for his willing assistance. But most of all, we appreciate the time put in by all the staff members, especially the "Terrible Trio".

Putting together a yearbook is certainly a labor of love, and for this reason, we, as the editors, ask you to spend some time with the book. As you do, we sincerely hope that the pictures and words included herein spark many memories for you of your aspirations and dreams, successes and failures, and good times and even not-so-good times at Muhlenberg during 1973-1974.
